

Rusk Says U. S. Wants China in Disarms Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed today that administration disarmament experts are studying the problem of whether and how Communist China can be brought into proposed disarmament schemes.

At his first news conference, Rusk also warned the American people against being unduly optimistic, as he put it, about improvements in relations with the Soviet Communist bloc. He said serious days and hard work lie ahead.

Rusk discussed U.S. foreign relations issues and answered questions for about 40 minutes.

He said the State Department public relations policy would be one of candid disclosure wherever possible and declared he fully recognizes the importance of an informed public opinion.

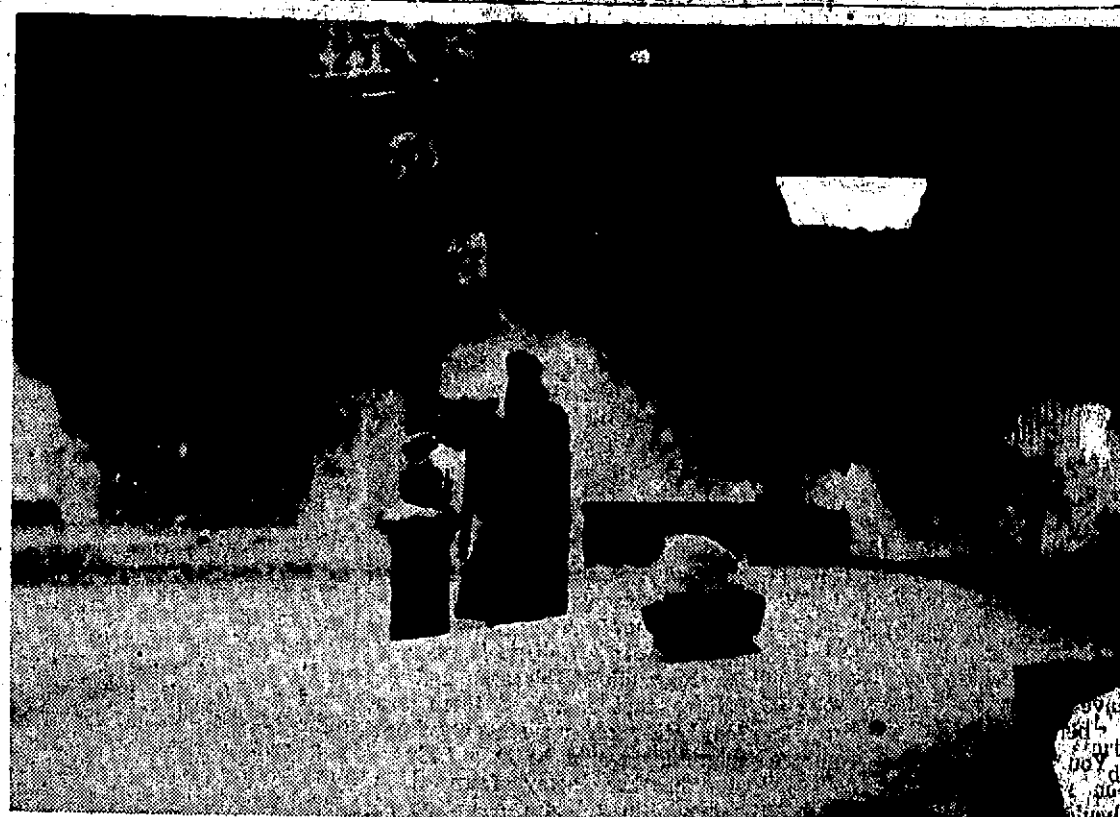

In a statement, Rusk called for development of a United Nations plan to bring peace and unity to the strife-torn Congo but he said the primary responsibility "rests with President (Joseph) Kasavubu and other Congolese and leaders."

Rusk announced that Arthur H. Dean, New York attorney who has held some important diplomatic assignments in the past, will be chief U.S. negotiator when the nuclear test ban conference resumes at Geneva March 21.

Russia agreed Saturday to a postponement from Feb. 7 to the new date.

On still another subject Rusk declared that the United States is "prepared to cooperate actively with the other American states to end tyranny, whether of the left or right."

He did not specifically mention Cuba in this connection but the reference seemed clear.

Socialist Is Elected in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A Socialist has easily defeated President Arturo Frondizi's candidate for the Senate from Buenos Aires—a blow to the president's prestige.

Alfredo Palacios, 80, a critic of the United States, rolled up 308,301 votes in Sunday's election, 7,000 more than his nearest opponent, the Interior Ministry reported today.

Frondizi's candidate, incumbent Sen. Armando Turano, ran third behind Nicolas Romano of the People's Radical party, a liberal center group. Romano had 301,947 votes to 240,427 for Turano.

Legislature to Take Up Bonds, Taxes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Wednesday is D-Day in the Arkansas House—with a proposed $52 million construction bond issue and a suggested soft drink tax to finance it due to come up for a vote.

The lower chamber's Revenue and Taxation Committee has attached a "do not pass" recommendation to the measure and many opponents are predicting the bill will receive less than 30 favorable votes.

A meeting of the College President's Association—which is backing the proposed soft drink levy to finance the bond issue—was scheduled to meet here this morning, and the matter was on the discussion agenda.

Representatives of the State Hospital and Arkansas Children's Colony were invited to send representatives.

The hospital, colony and colleges would share in the proceeds from the construction bond issue. Garland Rep. Ray S. Smith Jr., author of an alternate proposal for the construction—maintains that no new taxes are necessary for the building program.

Smith would finance the construction with funds from current revenues. He said there should be a $5 million unappropriated surplus in the general fund by 1962 and said this would meet the $4 million amortization cost of the bonds their first year.

Smith predicted that by 1963 the general surplus would have increased to the point that the bond payments could be made and still leave several million dollars in surplus funds for other needs.

Meanwhile, chances of a proposed "super bond" to control finances of the University of Arkansas and the seven state-supported colleges appear to be dimming.

Two such measures are now pending before the legislature, but many proponents have expressed doubt that either will be approved.

Those favoring such a measure say the institutions would benefit from the economies which would be realized. Opponents argue that too much power would be centralized in the board.

A vote may come in the House this week on an Arkansas Municipal League-sponsored bill to change the percentages used to determine revenue distribution between municipalities and the state highway department.

The measure would give cities

Dorsey Girls Get to See Their Dad

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Bill Dorsey's two daughters, aged 5 and 7, saw their father Saturday for the first time since last Nov. 11 when he landed their burning light plane near Nashville, Ark., as flames swept his body.

"I don't know how long Bill will be in the hospital," said Mrs. Dorsey, who accompanied the girls here from Hope, Ark., where they are staying with Mrs. Dorsey's parents. "But he's doing fine now that the children are here."

Dorsey was burned over 60 per cent of his body as he braved the flames to set the plane down in a pasture. Mrs. Dorsey and the girls were not seriously injured, since the flames that roared in from the plane's motor struck only the pilot.

The Dorseys were en route from their Omaha, Neb., home to Hope when the plane caught fire. Dorsey came to the Veterans Administration Hospital here for treatment. Mrs. Dorsey said she plans to stay until Monday, when she will return to her mother's home in Hope.

"I was mighty happy to see my family," Dorsey said.

Mrs. Clyde Sutton 83, Dies at Her Daughter's Home

Mrs. Clyde Sutton, aged 83, a former housewife at the U of A, died Sunday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Kelly Bryant.

Mrs. Sutton was born at Marianna. She went to Fayetteville in 1930 to be house mother for Zeta Tau Alpha sorority and was house mother for several other houses on the campus until 1944 when she moved to Hope with her daughter.

Besides her daughter she is survived by a granddaughter. Funeral services were held here today at Herndon-Cornelius Chapel by the Rev. Rufus Sorrells.

Graveside services were held at the Cedar Heights Cemetery at Marianna.

Snow, Ice Hits North Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow and ice hit northwest Arkansas last night and early this morning, but Arkansas State Police and the Highway Department reported no dangerous highway conditions.

"It snowed last night at Harrison, Fayetteville and Rogers and surrounding areas, but the light snow was melting today. It rained this morning at Fayetteville. None of the snow fall was more than an inch."

State Police said the highways around Harrison still had some ice on them and could be termed hazardous, but traffic was moving with little trouble. The Highway Department reported no maintenance trouble.

The Weather Bureau at Little Rock reported .16 of rain at Fayetteville and .10 at Booneville. There was some fog at Memphis, Pine Bluff, El Dorado, Texarkana and Fort Smith.

The bureau said there might be mixed rain and snow ending in the west tonight and in the east early Tuesday.

College in Reply to Editorial

Editor The Star: Our friends in Hope have sent us the editorial you wrote entitled "How About Abolishing a College or Two and Holding the Tax Line?" and published in your issue of January 31, 1961.

To say that our many students and alumni in Hempstead County were shocked and dismayed by some of your remarks is to put it mildly. We did not realize that any editor in Arkansas, particularly one within fifty miles of Southern State College, had the attitude toward our colleges which you expressed in your editorial. We sincerely hope that you will read and permit your public to read statements which follow as an answer to that editorial.

Are you serious in your statement that a soft drink is just as essential to health as bread and meat? If so, we must assure you that the medical profession and parents of many school children are opposed to your opinion. What is the food value of a bottle of pop, other than its sugar content? What vitamins and minerals does it contain? Actually, what does it do but rob a person of appetite for good, wholesome food?

You wrote that a tax on soda pop would run off Arkansas people. Do you seriously believe that anyone is going to leave this state because of the cost of a bottle of pop? No one left the state because the bottlers raised the price of pop from five to six cents. No one left the state because they went farther than that and, in some places, raised it to seven cents, and in even more places raised it to ten cents. How many vending machines do you have in Hempstead County that require only six or seven cents?

In Columbia County we haven't found any that require less than a dime. And all of this increase came from the bottlers themselves. No tax is responsible for it.

For your information, for a number of years the bottlers of this state have sought every excuse for raising their prices. The independent bottlers attempted to have a one-cent tax placed on soft drinks when they were selling for five cents in order to force Coca-Cola to sell at a higher price. At that time they stated to members of the General Assembly, including your own Senator Olen Hendrix, that the Coca-Cola Bottling Company was trying to freeze the independent dealers out by continuing to sell their bottled drink for five cents. The Coca-Cola people assured the legislators that if they would not impose this tax they would hold the price of a coke to five cents a bottle. The Legislature did not impose the tax. A few weeks later the Coca-Cola people joined the small bottlers and increased to six cents a bottle.

The truth of the matter is that there is no justification for increasing the price of pop above the places if the proposed tax on soft drinks is levied. As I have mentioned before, soft drinks are now being sold all the way from six cents to ten cents a bottle, depending upon what the public in a given area will stand.

You say that such a tax on

New Snow Hits Across Nation, Reaches State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow spread across the central section of the nation today after piling up to a foot in depth on the Texas Panhandle.

The new snow zone extended from Minnesota to northern Arkansas. Falls of 2 to 4 inches were expected in sections of eastern Missouri and southern Illinois.

The heavy snow Sunday in the Panhandle area of Texas derailed three freight trains. A cattleman died of exposure in 15-degree weather after his truck stalled in a snowbank.

A tornado hit the Flour Bluff district near Corpus Christi, Tex., Sunday, but damage was light.

Snow continued to fall early today in northern Texas.

Rain, snow and sleet put a treacherous coating on highways in Oklahoma, eastern Kansas, Iowa and Missouri.

The East strove to throw off the crippling effects of snow that ranged up to 20 inches late last week.

Back-to-work was the order of the day in New York City in the wake of the worst snowstorm in 13 years.

Subway cars and buses there were jammed because of an emergency order barring private automobiles from the streets. The Long Island Rail Road reported it was carrying almost three times the normal number of commuters. A spokesman said about 200,000 commuters were being transported today in contrast to the normal load of 80,000.

Transportation, power and telephone services were being restored rapidly in New England. Some thawing was in prospect there.

The storm was blamed for at least 100 deaths.

Air, rail and bus schedules were still a scramble Sunday night but officials held out hope that reasonable service would be restored today.

New York City, its 6,000 miles of streets nearly strangled with almost a foot and a half of snow, was still closed to all but emergency travel late Sunday.

The city's two major airports, Idlewild and La Guardia resumed operations Sunday night after being closed since Friday, forcing cancellation of some 2,600 flights.

The four major railroads operating out of the city hoped to be back on schedule after a day of operation without the semblance of a timetable.

In Rhode Island, officials called the storm the worst in at least 57 years.

Among the hardest hit communities was Cortland, N.Y., which measured 40 inches of snow, the heaviest in the city's history. Boston had 14.4 inches but the northern areas of New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine escaped the full fury as the storm moved out to sea.

The storm came on the heels of 16 consecutive days of sub-freezing temperatures but the mercury was expected to climb in the sunny 30s today.

The storm moving northeastward out of the south central portion of the country was expected to spread sleet or snow from eastern Oklahoma, Kansas and eastern Texas across southern Arkansas and into the Ohio Valley and Tennessee.

Hempstead Case Is Reversed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that a contractor following orders of the Highway Department is not liable for damages resulting from a road construction job.

The opinion reversed Hempstead Circuit Court, which had awarded Glenn C. Ellis Jr. and other property owners $1,500 from Southeast Construction Co. of Pine Bluff on their contention that a levee built along Highway 55 between Fulton and Saratoga damaged their land.

The Supreme Court's unanimous opinion said the contractor was acting under orders of the Highway Department and any action should be directed at the state agency.

Amendments to Drink Tax Proposed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Several amendments have been prepared for a proposed soft drink tax and bond issue bill, which is scheduled for a vote in the Arkansas House Wednesday.

Sponsors of the amendments were uncertain about when they will try to attach them to the bill.

Three separate proposed amendments have been written to refer the bond issue proposal to a vote in a general election, rather than in a special election as the bill now provides. Greene County Rep. Claude Collier, Saline County Rep. Virgil Fletcher and Chicot County Rep. Ben Bynum are the authors of these amendments.

Crittenden County Rep. C. B. Nance Jr., has an amendment which would put the word "tax" in the bill's title. As written, the bill submits the question: For or against state institutional building bonds. Nance would make it: For or against a tax and the issuance of bonds.

The bill would authorize a $52 million bond issue to be retired with revenues from a one-cent a bottle tax on soft drinks. The bond money would be used for construction at the University of Arkansas, seven state colleges, the State Hospital and the Children's Colony.

Douglas to Head Nat'l Labor Board

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank W. McCulloch, administrative assistant to Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., has been chosen by President Kennedy to be chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

"It's a terrific challenge and a great honor," McCulloch said when his nomination was announced Saturday night.

McCulloch replaces Boyd Leedom as chairman of the NLRB. Leedom, an Eisenhower appointee, will remain on the board. The recess appointment by Eisenhower of Arthur Kimball to a place on the board was withdrawn to make room for McCulloch. The chairmanship pays $20,500 a year.

McCulloch, 55, was a lawyer in Chicago after graduation in 1929 from Harvard Law School.

During World War II he was a public member of the regional War Labor Board and in 1946 became director of the Labor Education Division of Roosevelt College in Chicago.

Wants Slash in Tax Free Goods Tourists Buy

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today asked Congress to cut sharply the amount of foreign goods which American tourists can bring back to the United States without paying customs duties.

Kennedy proposed that the present $500 maximum be slashed to $100 in order to discourage tourists from buying costly souvenirs with dollars which foreigners could use to purchase American goods.

This was the most dramatic recommendation made by Kennedy in a 4,500-word special message on the gold problem which Kennedy said "justifies concern but not panic or alarm."

While the President had been expected to make a request of this sort, some were surprised by the extent of the proposed cut in the customs exemption.

The move was certain to cause concern in some countries, particularly Canada which entertains more American tourists than any other nation but which normally doesn't buy U.S. gold.

Most other major proposals represented attempts to place new emphasis on policies adopted earlier by the Eisenhower administration. For example, Kennedy promised new efforts to expand exports, attract foreign tourists, limit military spending abroad and channel foreign dollars to American businessmen.

One new idea: that Congress permit banks to pay foreign governments and central banks a higher rate of interest than Americans receive on savings accounts. The maximum rate now is three per cent.

Kennedy said action along this line "would enable American banks to make a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

The effect could be significant since the foreign deposits involved total about $3 billion.

Kennedy also said the United States will seek an international review of the free world's monetary system, with the aim of ironing out some kinks. He hinted at possible tax law changes later to discourage some kinds of private American investment in Europe.

Kennedy said there is time to deal with the gold drain "calmly and deliberately" and declared it can be stemmed without erecting trade barriers or hamstringing military and foreign aid programs. He said the first requirement "is to take all possible steps to insure the effective performance of our own economic system."

He described the proposals outlined in his message as supplementary to that aim but said: "They are not for that reason any less important or less urgent."

He promised vigorous action where he has power to act and urged "early consideration and approval" of those measures which are subject to the will of Congress.

Electrical Firms Fined in Price-Fix

By LEE LINDER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Six large electrical companies, General Electric and Westinghouse among them, were fined a total of $150,000 today on the first of 20 federal indictments charging bid rigging and price fixing in violation of antitrust laws.

J. H. Chiles, a Westinghouse vice president, was given a 30-day jail term, one of the few times a defendant was sentenced to jail in an antitrust case. Chiles also was fined $20,000.

Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey described the case involving 29 of the nation's biggest electrical firms as "a shocking indictment of a vast segment of our economy." He said the defendants "mocked the image" of the nation's free enterprise system.

General Electric and Westinghouse each received $40,000 fines on the first count, involving the sale of power transformer equipment. On the same count, Judge Ganey fined Allis-Chalmers $25,000; McGraw-Edison $20,000; Moloney Electric Co., $15,000 and Wagner Electric $10,000.

In his pre-sentencing remarks, Judge Ganey said those who guided the companies "bear a grave responsibility for what has happened. Accordingly heavy fines will be imposed on the companies."

By LEE LINDER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A huge electrical antitrust case, tagged one of the biggest in American history by federal attorneys, reaches a climax today and Tuesday in U.S. District Court with fines and possible jail terms.

Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey will sentence 29 of the nation's largest electrical equipment manufacturers and 45 of their employees.

There was a total of 72 pleas of guilty and 89 of nolo contendere (no defense) to 20 indictments for fixing prices and rigging bids at secret meetings all over the United States.

The nation's biggest electrical makers—Westinghouse and General Electric—were named in 19 indictments each. Westinghouse pleaded guilty to seven; GE guilty to seven; nolo in the rest.

Of the defendants, 57 were up for sentencing today. They included 21 corporations.

Corporations are liable to a maximum $50,000 fine on each indictment. Individuals, besides the $50,000 fine, can be sent to prison for a year.

If the maximum fines are imposed the total would be $8.05 million.

The government charged the conspiracy stifled competition in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act of 1890. All the defendants vigorously denied this at first, then later switched their innocent pleas as the government pressed for trial.

Following the sentencing, the next legal step, if any, could be civil lawsuits by governmental and private industry customers to recover damages for alleged overpayments for equipment used to generate, transmit and distribute electricity to almost every home in America.

Besides GE and Westinghouse the following firms entered one or more guilty pleas:

I-T-E Circuit Breaker Co., Philadelphia; Allis-Chalmers, West Allis, Wis.; Federal Pacific Electric Co., Newark, N.J.; Clark Controller Co., Cleveland; Cutler-Hammer Inc., Milwaukee; Square D, Detroit; Ingersoll-Rand, Easton, Pa.; Foster Wheeler Corp., New York; C. H. Wheeler Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia; Worthington Corp., Harrison, N.J.

Cuba Takes Over Base Water Works

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban water company supplying the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay since 1939 has been taken over by Fidel Castro's government. So far, however, there has been no interruption in the base's water supply.

The naval base made arrangements some time ago to get an adequate water supply by tankers if necessary. But one of the new government administrators for the Yateras Aqueduct Co., Antonio Batista, said operations would continue as before.

The Yateras Company, located on a river of the same name a few miles northwest of Guantanamo, first contracted to supply the base in 1939. The original 20-year contract is understood to have been renewed for a 10-year period running to 1959.

The company, founded by Henri Schueg, built an aqueduct and pumping station to send water to the base. The Navy expanded Remarks at a teachers' rally Sunday by President Osvaldo Dorticos and Education Minister Armando Hart also suggested a long-anticipated government move against private and Catholic schools is imminent.

Dorticos accused the church and its schools of teaching hatred for Castro's revolution. He said growing anti-Castro activity within the church coincides with President Kennedy's increase of aid to Cuban refugees in Florida.

Hart told the rally the government will not allow public schools to create one type of man while the private schools create another type. He accused Catholic schools — 265 among the island's approximately 1,000 private schools — of inculcating "absurd ideas" that poison and intoxicate students.

soda pop would be discriminatory against a single industry. Well, the state already taxes the tobacco industry, the gasoline industry, etc. The truth of the matter is that the bottling industry is not paying its share of state taxes.

You wrote in your editorial that a penny tax on soft drinks would be a blow at the unorganized poor. Such a tax would be levied on everyone, rich and poor alike. It would be paid a penny at a time which is an easy way for people to pay their taxes.

You wrote that the state schools leave much to be desired in the way of academic standards. On what do you base your remark? Are you qualified to decide on the academic standards of an institution of higher learning? Most of these schools are thoroughly accredited by the North Central Association, which is the largest and most strict of all the accrediting agencies of the country. Their credits are therefore recognized throughout this country and the rest of the civilized world.

Are you saying that you know more about the quality of instruction given at our colleges than these accrediting officials who have spent their lives working for better education?

You mentioned that some of our state "freshwater colleges" would be abolished. It has been a universal situation that when a college is closed down, the owners are unable to sell its physical plant for more than a third of its value. If Southern State were closed, that would mean that the state would lose nearly two-million dollars. You apparently are willing to sacrifice this amount, but we don't think the State is. Furthermore, you give economy as a reason for abolishing one or two colleges. You surely know that the cost of education per student on our college campuses is much less than it is at the University of Arkansas. In other words, you are suggesting that we save money by spending more money, vacating buildings on one campus and erecting new ones at the University.

In connection with your stated desire to close some of the small colleges of this state and let their students go to the University, you are apparently prepared to be more extravagant than a number of families in Hempstead County are. The costs for students at the University, since it can offer more facilities, are higher than they are at the colleges. Then, too, there is the matter of travel. A student from Hope who goes to the University has to travel clear across the state to get there. This increases his travel expense at least 75 per cent over the amount it costs him to return home from Southern State. How many Hope students can afford this? For your information, we have an average of over 40 students from Hempstead County enrolled here each semester. Then there are many from your neighboring counties. Our program at Southern State College is planned for the youth of this area and we believe that many of them are far better off as students here than they would be in a University farther away from their homes. Since I am a native of Blevins, did my first college work at S. S. C., have attended and taught in four major universities in four different states, and have taught in the public schools of Arkansas including your Hope High School, I believe that I am in a position to say with assurance that this college is now and has been for many years rendering a most valuable service to this state and particularly to Southwest Arkansas.

You referred disparagingly to a school started as a rural high school, which became a junior college, and then a senior college. You did not mention which school you referred to, and all of them have come from humble beginnings. Your statement could apply to our school, which was begun as a high school. It became a junior college because the people of Southwest Arkansas demanded it. It became a senior college for the same reason.

Insofar as the service that this college has rendered is concerned, you need not leave your office to determine this. Our alumni president is Dr. Forney Holt of your city. Mrs. Frank King is a former member of the board of this Association. Many of your school teachers are our former students. The number of former students who live in Hempstead County forms one of the largest segments of our Alumni Association. Are you going to say that such people, many of them leaders in your county, were not given adequate training here?

We want to issue you an invitation to visit our campus at any time so that you may ascertain for yourself our services and our needs, which are great. We want you for a friend, since you are editor of the leading newspaper in a county where we have so many other friends. We need your support, as well as theirs, and we think we should get it. Few counties benefit as much as Hempstead by improvements in Southern State College. We don't believe that you could write such a derogatory editorial if you acquainted yourself about the facts.

A Celebration that marks the Fun and Freedom You Enjoy Every Day in the Year!

Every year, during the week in which Thomas Edison's birthday occurs, the electric industry celebrates National Electrical Week, honoring this great scientist whose discoveries made electricity the practical servant of mankind. But it's more than the celebration of one week—it's the commemoration of a whole year of pleasure and profit, of fun and freedom, that comes to you and your family through your use of electricity.

Freedom? Yes, hours of it belong to you because electric servants now do so much that formerly took your time. All of us live our lives a little better and enjoy it a little more because of the things electricity brings us. If you doubt it, take a look at your wife. At 40 she looks and feels ten years younger than her grandmother at that age!

With dozens of electric appliances to aid her in cooking, laundrying and housecleaning, today's modern homemaker gains time for her family and other activities... reflects it in her youth and attractiveness... and that adds up to about as important a reason for celebrating National Electrical Week as we could imagine.

The State Department of Education, in cooperation with General Electric Company and our Company, is making available to every Junior and Senior High School in our area an assembly program known as "Adventures in Science." This series of scientific demonstrations geared to the Space Age will require most of the school year to make its rounds. It is designed to stimulate the curiosity and knowledge of students in Arkansas. Who knows... there could be another Edison in those audiences.

Cigarette Lighter Saved Trio

ALAMOSO, Colo. (AP)—A cigarette lighter—"that made the difference between life and death." Pat Floyd, 28, thus summed up today how he and two others survived 38 hours in bitter cold on a snowy mountainside after their plane crashed Friday.

Floyd, his sister, Betty, 19, and the pilot Bill Bradley, 20, of Alamosa were rescued Sunday morning from the slopes of Mt. Blanca.

Bradley's brother Jack, a searching pilot, spotted their crude "help" appeal stamped in the snow. Within an hour a weasel—a tracked vehicle—for going over deep snow—reached them.

All were hospitalized here. Floyd and Bradley suffered deep face cuts and bruises. Miss Floyd suffered a sprained ankle. All were suffering from various degrees of frostbite in the hands and feet.

The plane crashed in severe icing conditions on a flight from Denver to Alamosa in southwestern Colorado. One wing was ripped off the light plane but a 16-inch cushion of snow saved the occupants from serious injury.

"All our matches were wet," Floyd said, "so we couldn't start a fire. We just walked around Friday night trying to keep warm."

"When it got light enough to see Saturday morning we searched the wreckage and managed to find my cigarette lighter."

They used it to light oil from the airplane engine.

They were trapped in the same storm that caused two other private planes to crash in the region Friday. William D. Kelley Jr., 36, of Cumberland, Md., died when his single-engine craft smashed into a gully about 20 miles north of Brigham City, Utah.

The third plane disappeared on a flight between Rock Springs and Lander, Wyo. It was piloted by Buck Duane, 41, Lander businessman, and carried Terry J. Turner, 28, a Denver writer for Time-Life magazines.

Auxiliary Has New Location

THE THRIFT SHOP, OPERATED BY THE HOPE JUNIOR Auxiliary, moved into a new location Wednesday, February 1st. Headquarters for the shop now will be the building west of the Saenger theater. The auxiliary extends an invitation to old and new customers to visit them in their new shop where many articles of clothing have been added to the stock.

THROUGH THE PROFITS OF THE THRIFT SHOP DURING the past year, 47 school children have been clothed. Articles taken from stock on hand numbered 13. New garments bought from cooperating local merchants numbered 280 at a cost of $377.83. The Children's Clothing project is still in process and will continue until the end of the school year.

THE AUXILIARY AGAIN WISHES TO EXPRESS APPRECIATION to the merchants and citizens of Hope who have helped make this work a success by their discounts and contributions of used garments. A continuous demand for used articles prompts a continuous appeal from this organization that they may better serve the less fortunate ones of our community. Mrs. E. L. Archer is pictured above helping other members move to the new location.

Russia Is Silent on Satellite

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union maintained an enigmatic and unusual silence today on the mission and fate of its massive new Sputnik. Western tracking stations picked up no trace of the satellite.

A Soviet scientist, Prof. Yevgeny Leonovich Klimov, hinted the seven-ton satellite, whose launching was announced Friday, was unmanned. He said it was designed to study the earth and its environment.

Moscow's official silence was in direct contrast to previous satellite launchings, when Soviet scientists routinely announced how equipment was functioning and the schedule of cities to be passed over.

Western experts speculated that either something went wrong with the net satellite or the Soviets were keeping some spectacular development a secret until its success was assured.

Western scientists especially noted the Soviets seemed in no hurry to answer speculation that the Sputnik might be carrying a man through space. The satellite is large enough to carry an astronaut—and perhaps two.

Italy's Communist party newspaper L'Unita reported in a Moscow dispatch that the Sputnik "almost certainly" was unmanned.

Britain's leading satellite-tracking expert, Prof. Bernard Lovell, director of the Jodrell Bank Tracking Station, said, "there is certainly something rather odd about the long Russian silence on the satellite's progress."

He suggested the Sputnik's radio may have broken down or the Soviets might be transmitting on frequencies not used before.

"It may be, of course, that there is some living thing on board—not necessarily a man—and the Russians are saying nothing until they get the satellite safely back to earth," he said.

"If the silence continues, I shall be inclined to believe that something went wrong shortly after the launching," Lovell said.

Japanese scientists said they picked up signals being transmitted today on frequencies normally used by Soviet satellites but said the signals seemed to be coming from a fixed station and not an orbiting object.

Her Husband Sings His Wolf Calls

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

Through my married life certain situations repeat. Who is to blame seems too deep for me. Perhaps you can decide.

While I was away with my sick mother, I hired a baby sitter who lives with us. After she put the children to bed my husband room to sing and dance. He said nothing wrong happened. But he blamed the girl and said if she were decent she wouldn't come. He could be right.

Later I was away one night at a birthday anniversary. He could have gone but didn't. The neighbors and our little boy said my husband and this girl were up till six A.M. The girl said he was singing to her. He said any girl who doesn't know enough to stay in her room when he sings asks for trouble.

We both think a lot of each other. In general he's a good husband and father but I am concerned because of our children and the neighbors. What am I doing wrong? —In the Dark.

Dear In the Dark: Accept the fact that your husband has a roving eye. Stop making it easy for him to do what he later may regret. Either stay home or eliminate a baby sitter by taking the children when you do go out.

Dear Helen:

I have moved into a friendly neighborhood with the exception of two women whom everybody avoids. They spread rumors and when angry, yell. Should I ignore them entirely? —J.P.M.

Dear J.P.M.: Speak when you meet, for that is only civil. Otherwise, go your way and let them go theirs.

Dear Helen:

We are two 14-year-old girls who would like to know why parents think teen-agers terrible who date in parked cars.

We do not think this is wrong so long as all concerned conduct themselves in a mannerly fashion. After all its part of growing up.

Don't tell us to concentrate on our school work and forget boys. Both of us do well in school, come from well-to-do families and have a religious background.

—P. and S.

Dear P. and S.: Parked car dating is growing up the hard way. Parents, being aware of these risks, fear the consequences. So do I.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Baby-Sitting."

Here Briefly Is Things JFK Wants

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here, in brief, are the recommendations made by President Kennedy today to stem the outflow of gold and end the deficit in foreign exchange:

1. Studies of how to strengthen international monetary institutions to increase reserves to support a growing world economy.
2. International Monetary Fund —The United States has never used its right to draw on this fund to meet deficits in the balance of payments; if and when appropriate, this will be done.
3. Amendment of the law to permit setting of special interest rates for dollar holdings here of foreign governments to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold.
4. The recent order forbidding the holding of gold abroad by

Texans Take Top Money at Palm Springs

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The Palm Springs Golf Classic was played for a local charity, but two Texans who live only three blocks apart made it even more of a local benefit by winning most of the prize money.

Of the two, plump Billy Maxwell of Dallas won more prestige, by playing 90 holes of golf in 345 strokes.

But slender Don January of Dallas won a lot more money, by playing one hole of golf in one stroke.

Maxwell, who hadn't won a tournament on the GA tour since the 1958 Memphis Open, got $3,300 for coming home ahead of 63 other pros in Sunday's final round.

January won a $50,000 bonus prize for scoring a hole in one—the first of his 24-year golfing career—three days earlier.

A non-Texan, handsome Ken Venturi, probably won the most sympathy by blowing a slim lead with a 4-over-par 8 on the fourth to last hole of the tournament.

Venturi, of Palo Alto, Calif., wound up tied for fifth.

The last 18 holes were played at Tamarisk Country Club, where the men in charge of pin placement accomplished their job in such a devilish manner that the course might have been the toughest of the five used during the five-day event.

Maxwell shot a 1-under-par 71 and finished two strokes ahead of Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif. Sanders, who covered the final 18 in 69, won $3,400.

Arnold Palmer, who won here a year ago with a final-round 65, finished with a flourish again, but his 69 left him with an over all score of 348, a stroke behind Sanders. Palmer won $2,200.

Bill Casper Jr. took fourth prize of $1,900 with a 75 and a 349 total. Venturi and Bob Rosburg tied for fifth at 350 and got $1,600 apiece.

January's 90-hole score of 359 actually increased his earnings here to more than $50,000. He got $18.34 for tying for 40th place. He has won $54,160 this year.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE

THE STORY: Although the former child star Baby Jane Hudson is now an old woman, she still lives in a world of memories of her former success. Jane cares for her crippled sister, Blanche, an old time movie star. Jane has always been envious of Blanche and now Jane plans to return to the stage and has advertised for an accompanist. When Jane returns home she finds Blanche, who fears Jane is unbalanced mentally, phoning a doctor.

stage and has advertised for an accompanist. When Jane returns home she finds Blanche, who fears Jane is unbalanced mentally, phoning a doctor.

Chapter XIII

"Very well. I'll be there just as soon as I possibly can," said Dr. Shelby.

There was a click and then the hum of the dead line. Blanche lowered the receiver from her ear, but continued to hold it limply in her hand.

As Jane came up to her, she let the phone fall unheeded from her hand. In an unreasonable compulsion for flight, she reached one hand to the doorjamb, the other to the niche. She tried to pull herself up and onto her feet, but her strength now was utterly gone.

As she let go, a hand lashed out of the pressing dimness and struck her sharply across the face. She collapsed to the floor, catching herself painfully on one elbow. With a shudder of fright she twisted about and looked up.

"Jane!" she whispered. "Oh, please!" At the sight of Jane's face she turned away again, covering her eyes with her hands.

"Who brought you down here?" Jane's voice hurried at her in an angry rasp. "Who's in this house?"

Blanche shook her head in desperate denial.

Again the hand lashed out, striking her with senseless rage across the back of the head.

"I heard you! I heard what you were saying about me! You think I don't know what's going on — what you're trying to do to me!"

And then she was grasped roughly beneath the arms and lifted to her feet.

"Oh, don't! Please —!" She was being dragged, pulled, through the hallway and out into the living room.

Then Jane was forcing her up the steps. After what seemed an age, her chair loomed dimly before her, and she was whirled about and hurled into it. She fell back into the seat jarringly, limply, moaning with fright and pain.

Then she was careening crazily into her room. Out of the streaking confusion her bed materialized, hurled itself forward, struck against the arm of her chair.

And then she struck the wall, and received an almost paralyzing blow in the small of the back.

Gasp for breath, she struggled to right herself in the chair but was unable to do so. She lay panting against the arm, her eyes fixed on the figure in the doorway.

"Jane!" The glittering eyes returned in her direction. "Just don't wait for any doctor to come and help you," Jane said. "Just don't wait for anyone."

In the lower hallway, Jane picked up the phone, righted it and dialed.

She made her voice low, gave it a soft note of urgent secretiveness that made it sound remarkably like Blanche's.

"This is Miss Hudson," she said. "Please let me speak to the doctor."

"Just a minute, Miss Hudson." There was a prolonged pause and then Dr. Shelby came onto the line. "I'm on my way right now, Miss Hudson. Miss Hill just caught me at the elevator."

"Dr. Shelby—" Jane paused, made her voice still quieter. "I don't want Jane to hear . . . Doctor . . . I'm sorry . . . I — I won't need you after all. It was all a silly misunderstanding. . . . I'm just glad I caught you in time."

"But—" "I know . . . but it's all right now. She—Jane—she's been to a doctor by herself . . . another doctor . . . and it's much better that way . . ."

"Well — a note of thinly disguised irritation came into the doctor's voice — 'of course it's her's under someone else's care.'"

"Yes," Jane said quickly, "she is. So it wouldn't really be right for you to — to interfere, would it?"

Edwin Flagg turned cumber-somely on the piano bench and watched his mother as she put his lunch tray down on the card table beside the piano. Without a word, he dropped the newspaper beside him.

Del Flagg straightened, wiping her hands across the skirt of her faded house dress.

"Didn't I see you mark something?" The soft, fleshy folds of Edwin's face seemed to contract slightly with an expression of cold loathing. Nothing ever got past old Del. He couldn't make a move without her knowing. Resignedly he picked up the newspaper and handed it to her.

"Here — this here." "Oh, wonderful!" Edwin's pale blue eyes brightened briefly with pain. She hadn't even read it yet and she was gushing already.

Porkers Can Hog Tie SW Cage Race

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks can hog tie the Southwest Conference basketball lead Tuesday night by beating front-running Texas Tech in a vital bout here.

The Razorbacks defeated Texas Christian here Saturday night 88-75 for their fourth victory of the campaign, while Rice was bouncing Texas out of a tie for the lead, 63-59.

Now Arkansas, Texas and Texas A&M are tied for second place with 4-2 records, behind Tech's 5-1.

If the Hogs beat Tech, and A&M and Texas win their games with second-division clubs, there would be a four-way tie for first place.

The Hogs placed five men in double figures in the victory over TCU. Pat Foster led with 29 and Tommy Boyer hit 21. Both attained season highs. Clyde Rhodes added 13, Ronnie Garner 12 and Jerry Carlton 11.

Carlton is in fourth place in the league scoring race with 244 total points. Carroll Broussard of Texas A&M leads with 362 points.

Foster and Boyer collected 50 of the Hogs' 88 points. Foster hit from out front, and Boyer got 10 field goals from the corners.

A crowd of 5,000 — the largest of the season in Barnhill Field House — looked on as TCU slipped to its 13th defeat of the season against only three victories. Arkansas held a 46-40 half-time lead and maintained a 7 to 13 point bludge throughout the second half.

Alton Adams led TCU with 22 points. Arkansas led in shooting percentage, 42 per cent to 35, and in rebounds, 64-57.

Economy Run to Comes Here

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cars entered in the annual Mobilgas Economy Run from Los Angeles to Chicago March 11-16 are due to move across Arkansas.

An overnight stop is planned at Little Rock March 14.

The cars will enter Arkansas March 14 at Texarkana, travel up U.S. Highway 67 to Little Rock. They will continue up Highway 67 March 15 and cross into Missouri north of Corning.

Sponsors said Sunday that a record field of at least 60 cars will take part in the 2,000-mile test of mileage thriftiness of American cars. Winners in seven classes based on size and price will be determined by the highest number of miles per gallon.

Indiana Has a Chance at Nat'l Leader

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Indiana's hurrying Hoosiers, last team to beat Ohio State, get another chance at the breezin' Buckeyes tonight in the first game of a home-and-home series with the defending NCAA champions and college basketball's No. 1 team.

The Bucks play the Hoosiers at Columbus, Ohio, seeking their seventh straight Big Ten victory, and, over-all, their 21st consecutive triumph since Indiana's 99-83 decision at home on Feb. 29, 1960.

Tonight's game, and the rematch at Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 20, should determine whether All-America Jerry Lucas and his capable Ohio State Co. will nail another Big Ten title and a chance at another NCAA championship.

Ohio State is 6-0 in the conference and 16-0 this season after crushing Michigan 80-58 in a minor road test Saturday. Indiana is 3-1 in the Big Ten and 10-4 over-all after riding big Walt Bellamy's 34 points and all-around play to a 90-78 victory over Northwestern.

The Big Ten showdown triggers another big week on the college courts, heading a schedule packed with important tests for the conference and independent teams alike in their push for places in the two March tournaments—the NCAA and the National Invitation. The tournaments are wide open with a month of heavy play remaining and only one team definite—second-ranked St. Bonaventure, which has accepted an at-large invitation to the NCAA in hopes of another crack at Ohio State, its only conqueror in 11 games this season.

The Bonnies, sky-high after beating third-ranked Bradley last week, play at home tonight against Tennessee State, the top-ranked small college team, then meet Boston College at Buffalo on Saturday.

Bradley, still leading the Missouri Valley Conference despite a loss to surging Cincinnati last week, plays conference foe Drake at Peoria tonight.

Mississippi State, unbeaten in the Southeastern Conference, entertains Tulane, and Kansas needs only to beat Colorado to pull into a tie with Kansas State in the Big Eight.

The scrambled lead in the Mid-West Atlantic Conference race is up for grabs in a Philadelphia Palestra doubleheader that matches

Fighters at Fort Smith Win Bouts

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Fort Smith fighters won both the Novice and Open Divisions of the annual Fort Smith Golden Gloves tournament of champions which ended here Saturday night.

Arkansas Boys Industrial School was second in the Novice Division with 13 points to Fort Smith's 15. Fort Smith and Cushing, Okla., tied for Open Division honors with 13 points each, but Fort Smith won the title because it had three champions to two for Cushing.

Fred Mills of McAlester, Okla., who decided Jim Humphreys of Pine Bluff for the 126 pound Open Division title, received the Barney Sugarman award for outstanding boxer.

Winners in both Novice and Open divisions go to Memphis for the Mid-South Golden Gloves tournament. Memphis winners go to Chicago for the national tournament.

Larry Tapp of Fort Smith and Jim Walters of Subiaco scored curious back-to-back technical knockouts in the novice finals Saturday night. Tapp ended his 118 pound fight with David Fuller of Subiaco with a right jab to the jaw at 1:42 of the first round.

In the next fight, Walters ended his 126 pound bout with Ray Davis of ABIS with a similar right jab to the jaw at the same time—1:42 of the first round.

The tournament was sponsored by the Fort Smith Southwest American-Times Record and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Negro Group Defies Order of NAACP

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Negroes who bucked the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to vote for a new segregated elementary school said they did so because of the problem of overcrowded schools.

Negroes in Sussex County, Delaware's southernmost county, voted 441 to 19 in favor of construction of a $543,000 school which must be segregated under state law, state officials reported.

About 40 per cent of the eligible Negro voters were represented. The NAACP had called for a "no" vote on the ground that construction would entrench segregation.

The school will have 367 pupils who now attend four schools which will be closed.

The legislature already has appropriated funds to build the school. The State Board of Education was not required to hold the opinion poll.

Delaware has been ordered by a federal court to admit to white schools by next September all Negroes who seek such admission.

Arkansas has 10 legal holidays: January 1 and 19; February 22; May 30; July 4; August 14; First Monday in September; November 11; Last Thursday in November and Christmas Day.

Bobcats Take Key Contest at Malvern

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

Captain Billy Mitchell's Bobcats took an important conference victory Saturday night as they came from behind to beat Malvern on their home court 60-51. In the junior game, the Kittens had no trouble remaining undefeated in district play, taking the host lads 49-22.

The Bobcats jumped to a quick 15-11 first quarter lead, but were outscored 20-11 in the second and trailed at the half 31-25. Then it was Hope's turn in the third as the Bobcats took 12 points to Malvern's 7, thus the score stood all even 33-33 going into the final period. Although post-man Eddie Fry fouled out, the Cats scored 22 points in the fourth to give them this important conference victory.

Gene Robinson was high for the Cats with 19, followed closely by Glen Calhoun with 18. Fry sank 11 and Churchwell, Arnett and Porterfield took 4 each.

Malvern had been tied for first place, going into this game. The Cats now have a 4-2 district record and a 13-5 season record. They also have a six-game winning streak going.

The Bobcats now have an 11 game winning streak and a 17 game streak in conference play including last year's wins. They lead the district with a 6-0 record.

16 Die in State by Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death of a 52-year-old White County man in the fire which destroyed his home near Bradford boosted to 16 the number of violent deaths recorded in Arkansas during the week which ended at midnight Sunday.

John Ellis Riley died when fire of unknown cause destroyed his home Saturday.

Fires also claimed the lives of five other persons during the week.

Traffic accidents led the list of violent deaths, with seven fatalities reported.

A bicycle-train collision took one life, another died in a tractor accident and one person drowned.

The population of Arkansas in 1785 was 196, exclusive of Indians.

Results of Little Loop Basketball

In Saturday's Little League Basketball, the rampaging Cool Cats went on a real scoring spree. Swamp Owes's Hot Rods 42 to 15. Owens, playing without the services of Stan Parris, a top player, lost much of their offensive effectiveness.

Dennis Ramsey poured in 25 points for the winners with Larry May sacking 9. Gary Powell and Terry Hair had 4 each.

In the second contest, Gulf's Bo-Diddies maintained their winning ways by outscoring the Dirty Dobbers 24 to 16. Ronnie Ingram with 16 and Fredo Ellis with 6 led the winners. Bobo Ball with 7 and Biddle with 4 were high for the losers.

Next Saturday the Little Leaguers will travel to Camden for two games with the Camden Boys Club. The group will leave the Hope High Gym at 8:30 a.m. and play at the Camden Arsenal Gym at 10 a.m.

BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD ANNOUNCES NEW PLAN FOR INDIVIDUALS & FAMILIES

NEW PLAN OFFERS YOU GREATEST BENEFITS EVER (Per Dollar of Dues)

For the first time ever, Blue Cross-Blue Shield offers individuals and families under 60 years of age the same broad benefits available to members in employed groups. Under this new plan, you pay the first $25.00 of covered services and Blue Cross-Blue Shield covers the balance—services so complete and so broad as to protect you adequately against any hospitalized illness for as long as 120 days. Virtually all hospital extras during 120 day benefit period are covered in full, regardless of cost. This new contract also provides vastly improved allowances for surgical operations up to a maximum of $300 depending on the procedure involved... liberalized payments for maternity services, greatly improved payments to Doctor for medical visits in hospital and up to $75.00 for anesthesia according to schedule. Liberalized payments for X-ray and Isotope treatment are also provided.

COVERAGE SO BROAD . . . YOU NEED ONLY THIS ONE PLAN

Many people have felt the need of carrying two or more hospitalization policies. The Blue Cross-Blue Shield $25 Deductible Comprehensive Contract ends that need . . . saves you important money, month after month. Saves you time, too! Payments are made directly to hospitals and doctors. There are no claims for you to file, no waiting for settlement. This one contract gives you more—SAVES YOU MORE! There has never been such a bargain offered to families and individuals in Arkansas.

HERE'S HOW BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD GIVES YOU SO MUCH . . .

Blue Cross-Blue Shield is a community service, non-profit organization. Officers and members of the Board of Trustees serve without pay—as a public service. Every penny of dues received (less a small amount for necessary reserves and administration expense) is paid out for member benefits in the form of hospital and/or Doctor care. And when you need the benefits, Blue Cross-Blue Shield can be depended on to help you pay the bills—exactly as promised!
